Check this out. June found me in Las Vegas, NV, and I decided to bring you along! Well...digitally at least. Hey you don't have to put up with the air travel at least...

I stayed at the Stratosphere, Toured the Hoover Dam with the most awesome "Joe", had Sarsaparilla and talked with Tom Sheckells at the Pioneer Saloon in Goodsprings, saw the Bonnie & Clyde Death Car in Primm, got a selfie with Rich Little, and saw an old friend (Greg Korin) play "Reliable Jake" in "Evil Dead the Musical."

You could say I was at the "Top of the World." No seriously. That's a restaurant at the Stratosphere.

By the way, I was going to put "Big Iron" in the video, and then feared getting banned in Germany or something for copyright infringement. It happens more frequently than you'd think...

At any rate, I'm embedding the Big Iron Music Video and the Heynabonics Video Below, along with the usual list of relevant links. Enjoy!
